DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claims 12-14 as written are considered a product by process claim. A single claim, which claims both an apparatus and the method steps of using the apparatus, is indefinite under USC 112, second paragraph. This type of claim is indefinite because it fails to positively recite the boundaries of protection. The metes and bounds of the claim cannot be determined because it is unclear whether protection is sought for the method or for the apparatus.

As best understanding of the examiner, claims 12-14 will be treated on the merits in this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claims 1, 3-6 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kuo (U.S. 6,598,667).

Kuo discloses a heat dissipating heat sink comprising all of the applicant's claimed and disclosed limitations of the instant invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2, 7 and 11-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kuo ((U.S. 6,598,667) in view of Chen et al. (U.S. 2004/0045701).

Kuo's invention discloses all of the claimed limitations from above except for a method for a heatsink with fins; and the material of the heat sink is selected from the group consisting of copper and aluminum.

Art Unit: 3743

8. However, Chen teaches material of the heat sink is selected from the group consisting of copper and aluminum [0020]; and would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention based on Kuo and Chen to have a method for a heatsink comprising the steps (a)-(e).

Given the teachings of Chen, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the heatsink of Kuo with a heat sink being made of copper and aluminum [0020]; and would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention based on the combination of Kuo and Chen to have a method for a heatsink comprising the steps (a)-(e).

Doing so would provide a highly conductive thermally efficient heatsink.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following references are cited for disclosing related limitations of the applicant's claimed and disclosed invention. Koltuniak et al., Gabuzda et al, Arnold et al, Hoffmann, Hedge and Checchetti.
